Why Us?

We understand the value of service, knowledge and relationships

Professional project management with on-site support

Our company employs professional English-speaking Project Managers who will provide help and support at every stage. You will have one point of contact who will share their experience and passion in order to meet your expectations and transform your vision into a sustainable solution. Working with our designers, technicians and fitters we will take care of every detail, as your satisfaction is our priority.

Working for global brands

Over the last 10 years we have developed a passion for quality, with a strong focus on detail and attractive design. We have supplied solutions for international companies from the very beginning, working with well known brands, including Galderma, Astra Zeneca, KLM, Allergen, Allengers, Genvik, Tormac, Powercam, Johnson Matthey Catalysts, and many more. We continue to develop our skills so you can always rely on us to come up with new and innovative ideas.

All facilities under one roof

As a full-service company we offer complete design, construction, installation and storage of stand elements. Thanks to our in-house production, we can provide anything from small strategic stands to complex, integrated double-deck stands and outside pavilions.

Flawless execution and guaranteed satisfaction

Our long-term experience and quality service makes us a reliable and trustworthy partner. We make every effort to guarantee, not only the highest standard of our products but of our services as well. Our main goal is to satisfy all your needs and expectations.

Quick and efficient service

Our team is always flexible, reacting quickly to changing conditions, circumstances and needs. Nothing is impossible for us. In order to ensure quality, we always work with reliable suppliers and certified materials.

Pre and post-show activity

We can offer you a wide range of services related to exhibition stands and the organisation of exhibitions. Our project managers are always willing to help you arrange formalities and will liaise with exhibition organisers on your behalf. We speak English. If you need to use the same stand for subsequent events, we can store it in our warehouse and re-assemble it for you when required.

Online monitoring of production process

Using our latest online technology, you can follow every stage of production and keep up to date with its progress. This enables us to ensure the highest standards of quality in every detail. Our constant supervision guarantees that the end product is always in accordance with the design.

Testimonials

Koru Pharma had an exceptional experience working with SkyFrame for three years in a row on the Dubai Derma Exhibition booth construction project. SkyFrame's professionalism, attention to detail, and commitment to excellence far exceeded expectations. Their team of skilled craftsmen and designers created a visually stunning and highly functional exhibition booth, and their attention to detail was impressive. SkyFrame is an exceptional exhibition booth construction company that Koru Pharma highly recommends.
